Find out all of the information about the TEBIS product: CAD part inspection comparison software.. The software is primarily used in the generation of toolpaths for chip-breaking manufacturing such as drilling and milling, but also in Wire EDM and Electrode EDM.. Tebis is a CAD/CAM software solution for applications such as die, mold or model making.

The system's comprehensive data management, manufacturing planning and manufacturing control functions enable effective control of all individual parts for dies and injection molds at all stages of production.. 's CAD/CAM software provides optimized functions in five-axis simultaneous milling.. The company is also displaying its ProLeis Manufacturing Execution System (MES) for single-part manufacturing.. Features include adaptive and contour parallel roughing strategies, simple machining of connected milling areas in isoparametric surface layout, and integrated tilt direction preview when milling between vectors.
