Reinstalling the driver didnt proved helpful too Do that about 300 instances already:) Sony doesnt offer drivers for Gain7.. I've attempted to operate 2 different programs at the same time making use of the web cam, simply to become sure, and i obviously received the message saying the webcam was already in make use of by another software program.. All they say is Gain7 come already with the essential drivers My think right now is that something else may become messed upward, like chipset drivers, or something identical.
